Rethinking Investment Incentives

Trends and Policy Options

“In today’s world, increasingly mobile multinational enterprises (MNEs) and immobile locations are locked in a co-evolutionary embrace. They need each other in the manner of bees and flowers. The benefits to locations from MNE knowledge spillovers create powerful arguments for government investment incentives. Hence I welcome this volume, edited as it is by four experts who collectively have many decades of relevant experience. They have assembled an enviable team of specialists who examine investment incentives from all the important perspectives – theory, practice and policy. I highly recommend this volume to scholars as well as policymakers.”

—Ram Mudambi, Temple University

CONTENTS

- Introduction
  Ana Teresa Tavares-Lehmann, Lisa Sachs, Lise Johnson, and Perrine Toledano

- Types of Investment Incentives
  Ana Teresa Tavares-Lehmann

- Definitions, Motivations and Locational Determinants of FDI
  Sarianna M. Lundan

- The Use of Investment Incentives: The Cases of R&D Related Incentives and International Investment Agreements
  Christian Bellak and Markus Leibrecht

- Incentives in the EU
  Philippe Gugler

- Incentives in the United States
  Charles Krakoff and Chris Steele

- Tax Incentives Around the World
  Sebastian James

- A Holistic Approach to Investment Incentives
  Louis Brennan and Frances Ruane

- Investment Incentives for Sustainable Development
  James Zhan and Joachim Karl

- Cost-Benefit Analysis of Investment Incentives
  Ellen Harpel

- Regulation of Investment Incentives – National and Subnational Efforts to Regulate Competition for Investment Through the Use of Incentives
  Kenneth P. Thomas

- Regulation of Investment Incentives – Instrument at an International/Supranational Level
  Lise Johnson

- Conclusions: Outstanding Issues on Incentive Policies Design and Implementation
  Lise Johnson, Perrine Toledano, Lisa Sachs, and Ana Teresa Tavares Lehmann